

DAILY PANOLA STAR.

NOTICE

To Visitors to the Fair.

Having secured a number one Ox Cart, we are well prepared to transport visitors to the Fair Grounds from any portion of the town, and we will be prepared to furnish all orders for

Books, Buggies and Livery, and to find all stock put in our charge.

LOUKE & RICE,

Stables west side Railroad, opposite Depot.

Parties will be ready when the bus calls at residences, or they will be left.

Sardis, Miss., Oct. 3, 1872. 2w

Lock & Rice fill all orders for livery left with them.

The irreproachable Sam Wells has an oyster and confectionery stand at the corner of the Veranda Hotel, where parties can be served in all the styles of cooking the tempting bivalves.

The mail-trains will stop at the Fair Grounds to take on passengers hereafter.

Bain has just received a lot of new and assorted fine liquors, and he claims to have the best stock in the county, and he is willing for you to see whether he is joking about the matter or not, by calling upon "Deutsche" John for a sample

Correction.

By our mistake we gave the premium for the best pair of draft horses to J. C. Brady when it should have been G. L. Berry.

Also in the premium for best mare three years old to J. C. Harrison, when we should have given the name of our young friend from Batesville, John S. Harris.

The Concert.

The third of the series of concerts for the benefit of the Episcopal Church was given last evening. The audience was composed of the élite of the county, and the number of really pretty ladies in the audience was highly complimentary to the genuine beauty of our country.

The audience were very kind in their attention, and seemed to be highly pleased. The performers acted well their parts. The "Virginia Mummy" was well played. Miss G. and Tate McC. Adolph McE., Mr. Childerson and Frank Jones were good in their parts, and the ladies never failing to carry off the palm.

The play of "Mabel Pat" was played by request, and Dr. Mc H. and Miss Cora H. were as highly interesting in their parts as amateurs could be, the other characters acquitted themselves creditably. By request Miss Imogen il recited the "Raven" in that style of ease and beauty so natural to her. Miss Mollie L. F. in the tableau scene of the "Eastern Queen" seemed fitted to sway the royal diadem of the Egyptian race of Cleopatra with equal grace and beauty as her for whom the Roman soldier

"Who, who, drink with thy caravans Maily threw a world away."

The music and singing was highly pleasing to the audience. The concert have been a success.

The ball to-night at the Fair Grounds, given under the auspices of the Executive Committee, will be the grandest affair of the season. An entrance fee of $10 or $5 will be required of gentlemen. Refreshments and fine music.

The party at the hotel last night was a successful meeting. The Fair should lay their tables to Judge Orman, who is ready to receive it.

The beer saloon is the popular resort of a large portion of the visitors to the Fair.

The Memphis Fair commences Monday next.

The ball to-night at the Fair Grounds will be a splendid affair.

Any one having any spare cash to dispose of can find the proprietor of the bar ready to receive it.

Judge Simmons adjourned Chancery Court yesterday at nine o'clock until Monday next.

In the notice of the discontinuance of the express office at Combs, Wm. Willis was named Railroad Agent, when it should have been Route Agent.

The special train on the M. & T. Railroad was discontinued yesterday.

W. T. McGee won the sweepstakes on the fastest trotting gelding. G. W. Whitaker on the fastest stud-bred trotter against time.

There will be a special private premium today of $25 silver pitcher (entry fee 45) for the best saddle-stallion, any age, all gaited considered.

SEARCHED.

BURGES—RAINES.—At Trenton, Tenn., October 17, 1872, at the residence of the noted parent, by the Rev. Dr. Marshall, Mr. Joe D. Burgess and Miss Julia K. Raines.

Our citizens will join with us in tendering to our former townsmen the warmest congratulation in having bowed to Hyman's power having entered into the best state. His bride is a most charming lady. Long life to them.
